

About Us

techniCAL was established in 2000 as a distributor of test and measurement instruments. Located in Hamilton, Ontario, we quickly provided superior support for the products represented serving the power and process industries including: electrical utilities, electrical manufacturers and contractors, petro-chemical, pharmaceutical, food processing, automotive, aerospace and defence industries.

techniCAL Systems 2002 Inc. was federally incorporated in 2002 and continued exponential growth offering additional product lines and services. techniCAL implemented a distribution network offering technical, sales and marketing support across Canada through regional/local distributors.

Today techniCAL provides superior sales and service support through strong global partnerships. We offer product, service, software, training and customized solutions for all different industries with a sole focus on test, measurement, calibration, control and recording applications.
